

Hello Again!! I hope your Summer is as busy as mine has been. "Ain't" life wonderful!!!

Since last chatting with you we have spent a long week end in Phoenix where my wife got to shop at her (and my) favorite store and I took in a couple of Baseball games (sad part of trip, since my team lost).

Then I was in North Carolina for a couple of weeks visiting family and going to auto races. They have opened the NAS-CAR Hall of Fame there and all of you who remember the old "Hot Rods" should plan on going if you are in the area. They have a bunch of them on display.

A week before leaving for North Carolina I went out to pick up papers in drive and noticed trash on sidewalk. Tucked the papers under my right arm and proceeded to go toward paper. Managed to twist a foot leaving driveway into the yard and while trying to regain my balance trip on sidewalk and fell flat on my left arm and nose. (Not a pretty sight). Hurt so bad (wanted to cry) I just laid there a while trying to figure out what all was bleeding. ((Mouth, Nose (in and outside) and Face)) not my legs...they stayed in the grass. Managed to limp back into the house to survey damage. Mouth cut inside and out, teeth bleeding. Nose skinned, lip and chin skinned. You will be Happy to know that during the fall I did not throw out my right hand to break my fall. I clutched those newspapers all the way down and stopped the fall with my left hand and nose. Old Football training not to fumble (our maybe just basic stupidity)

Other than the above it was a...Y A W N...boring Month!!!

Now!! Back to Jaguar business. Yosemite trip this weekend, should be a blast. We sold out all of our Reserved space. Lew and Faye have been very helpful in mapping a scenic route and setting up a stop for lunch at a winery along the way.

There is still time to get your Reservations in for "Peachwood's at Pasatienpo," since Norma France is heading up the event. You know it will be good!!

Don't forget the annual Bar BQ at the Klabunde's in August, this is always a crowd favorite.

this date was incorrectly listed as Wednesday, July 14 in last month's Jagazette*

Andre and Pauline are heading up an interesting week night overnigher for the "on-the-street" Carmel Auto Show. If you can make it I know that will be a Super Event.

September has us doing an overnigher at the Benbow Inn. I have never been there, so I am excited to give it a whirl.

October 16th, of course is the President's Rally, ending up at my place for a cook out and some fine wines to mellow the mood.

Well I feel sure I have said more than my (Award Winning) Editor will allow. So I will close this out for another month.

My Jaguar is clean and full of Petro. I'll see you on the road!!
